Local Baseball Fever Epidemic

The second meeting to discuss local baseball matters was held at the Norway Buick Co., Friday evening and attracted a large, enthusiastic gathering. A delegation from the northwestern part of the town drove over hard roads to be present. Laurence M. Carroll presided and engineered the discussions which were informal and a free-expression of opinion. Frank E. Decester, who was present at the conference of managers at Lewiston reported on the progress of the team. The main object in forming a Maine state league according to promoters was to protect towns and cities against salary grafters and insure a regular schedule. It was claimed a $500 weekly salary list would be the limit and each club must post a $500 bond to show good faith. If found guilty of increasing pay beyond the authorized amount this bond should be forfeited to the league's general fund. Mr. Decester explained the two provisions offered to divide proceeds, one the percentage plan on a 60-40 basis; the other a $100 per game guarantee. In conference with several delegates Mr. Decester learned a number of our neighboring towns were not in a hurry to leave independent base ball. They were straddle the fence not knowing the Twin-Towns attitude. It was evident from conversation at the meeting, the league idea is the child of city managers. Small town's representatives believe in independence but the question of no clubs to play if not in the combination was a poser.

Stuart W. Goodwin, a member of the visiting committee, reported he interviewed representative from South Paris and they believed the town would take no active interest in a team. A number expressed a willingness to contribute and the usual patronage might be expected at the games. There was no interest at West Paris. Oxford would be interviewed later.

Without South Paris actively engaged, the question of a name for the team was discussed at some length, retaining "Twin-Towns" as a name approved to meet the approval of the majority of speakers. The matter was laid on the table until the next meeting. Election of officers was postponed, until the delegates to the State League conference, report.

Eugene N. Swett, a business man recently enthused over baseball prospects in town, spoke at some length on Main Street's attitude in the league question. He believed independent baseball kept the money at home especially on the Thursday and Saturday game basis. So far as he learned in interview, the business men would contribute more generously to a local sport but were not leaning toward any league ideas. While many to attend the games he had done his bit on subscription papers and would continue his support, but desired the citizens to think carefully before entering a league.

To learn the feeling of others in the matter, Mr. Swett reported on telephone conversations that afternoon with friends in Farmington and Dixfield. Both stated public sentiment was for independent base ball but were "stalling" having learned all Norway was for the league. Telephone communication with Livermore Falls produced more testimony unfavorable to the league. Mr. Swett was of the opinion there would be no trouble securing games if all concerned would keep free from a state combination.

L. M. Carroll supplemented the remarks by explaining the Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co.'s position. He said when they organized the sport and practically financed a ball team several years ago, their object was to entertain and keep the employees home and occupied Saturday afternoons. He estimated at least $500 remained, which without this recreation would be fooled away elsewhere. He also believed the whole town received a benefit from the games as provided with the laying a foundation. Personally he was not in a mood to contribute heavily for any system coming money from town.

At this point the question was put, "Shall we enter the State League?" The answer was "no" by a show of hands, there were no affirmative votes. L. M. Carroll volunteered to attend the next conference at Lewiston and Frank E. Decester was chosen as the second delegate.

A letter from George Tilton, umpire of last season was read. He would manage a team here for reasonable pay if the fans so desired. Mr. Carroll agreed to take up the matter with Mr. Tilton for definite information. "Billy" White, the popular center fielder was mentioned as a possibility, also a prominent Brown University athlete, who is to be graduated this spring wished to join as manager-player.

At least $2000 was considered necessary for beginning and Frank E. Decester, Albion L. Buck and Geo. F. Hill were chosen a committee of finance to canvass for subscriptions and get a line on the money end.

Meeting adjourned until Friday evening March 30, at eight o'clock. Gathering will be held at the Norway Buick Co. salesroom, the use of which has been generously offered.

BASKETBALL

Norway High 65; Alumni 20

The past stars at Norway High School were no match for the present twinklers in a haphazard game at Norway Open House Thursday evening, March 22. The "Grads" lacked team work and wind, and were in only fair condition to follow a seasoned outfit. Despite the wide gulf on the score board, the game proved interesting with bits of rare comedy introduced. Capt. King of the regulars tossed the heaviest bunch of baskets and was followed by LaFrance, Andrews and Palmer. Honors were about even among the graduates, they had fair success at the ring except on the foul line.

Swift passing by the regulars all but hypnotized the alumni contingent for the shock troops were not drilled to smash the "five men" defense. Capt. King's bunch had no trouble getting the ball from their elders, whenever fancy dictated. Referee Luce was kind to the down cellar outfit but personal fouls accumulated. Lack of subs kept one or more players in the game after the distance flag dropped.

Dancing followed, music by Shaw's orchestra. The proceeds from the game and dance were for the athletic association. Summary:

Freshies 14; Brown's Aggies 7

Although the "freshies" may be green in some things they certainly showed that they wasn't green at basket ball Friday night before the big game when they defeated the "Aggies" 14 to 7. The certainly showed the effect of Coach Luce's handling. The Walker brothers who have been playing for the "aggies" struggled upon opposite sides. "Fat" Rogers, champion heavy weight of the freshies was the last straw or (ton of coal) to break the camels back. "Fat" produced no end of fun and he was loudly applauded. The losers have challenged the winners to a game next term and will sharpen the scythe for a regular harvest.

Oldest Buick in Norway

Nathan Noble of this town has a 1910 Buick Model 17 used about every day in summer and good for more years of hard service. He bought the car of Frank Beck in 1911 and has made over 100,000 miles. Mr. Noble states outside of tires the machine's expense has been less than $500. Paint has kept the body in fine condition and the car resembles a new product except the style is not up to a modern fashion plate. This car earned Mr. Beck $1100 during the year he owned it.

These facts were brought out at the Norway Buick Co. in connection with the millionth auto in the Buick production. Mr. Noble's car stands good to go to the head of the class.

IS IT RHEUMATISM?

Aren't You Really on the Wrong Track?

A good share of so-called rheumatism is caused by weak kidneys. When the kidneys fail to clear the blood of uric acid, the acid irritates the delicate nerves.

Torturing pains dart through the affected part whenever it is moved. By strengthening the kidneys, Doan's Kidney Pills have proven their worth in thousands of so-called rheumatic cases, lumbago, sciatica, gravel, and urinary disorders. Doan's are well known in Norway and warmly recommended by Norway people. Read this Norway case:

Mrs. F. L. Starbird of South Paris,

who formerly lived in rear Beals Hotel, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been an old standby with me for years. At times my kidneys don't act as they should or my back aches. I often have blinding dizzy spells and rheumatic trouble when my finger joints seem to swell and are painful. I always use Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and they quickly relieve and cure me of the attack. I can't say enough in praise of Doan's."

Why tolerate cracking plaster?

BY UPSONIZING, you can have walls and ceilings of enduring charm.

Nearly every home—probably your own—has one or more rooms that are a source of embarrassment because of their appearance.

Yet you can easily transform such a room—simply by having your carpenter apply Upson Board right over the old plaster.

Upson Board is the nearest-perfect wall and ceiling material for every kind of building, new or old. It has the enviable record of less than one complaint to every 5,000,000 feet sold and used.

Upson Board is different! It is neither brittle nor absorbent like some boards—thus it reduces waste in handling and saves $5 to $15 per room in painting.

Applied with Upson Fasteners, Upson Board is the only board held securely in place from the back. Disfiguring nail-holes, the big objection to wall board, are eliminated.

Although fittingly used in the finest of homes as well as the modest cottage, Upson Board is not expensive.

Call or phone for samples, prices and complete information.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

First Class Scouts for 1922
The following scouts have the honor of becoming First Class scouts during the year 1922. This is one of the honors that come from hard work.

Roy Jones, Bethel.
Winifred Swan, Locke's Mills.
Leon Ames, Locke's Mills.
Irvin Mason, Locke's Mills.
Eben Rand, Locke's Mills.
Harry Packard, Bryant's Pond (now Locke's Mills).
Edward Burnham, West Paris.
Fred Waterhouse, West Paris.
Edward Penley, West Paris.
Howard Wardwell, West Paris.
Elihu Waterhouse, West Paris.
Houghton Kimball, Norway.
Irving Joslin, Norway.
Elsworth Smith, Buckfield.
Carroll Pierce, Buckfield.
Arthur Hutchinson, Buckfield.
Sidney Hutchinson, Buckfield.
Fred Jenkins, Rumford No. 1.
Thomas Maynard, Rumford No. 1.
Philip Jenkins, Rumford No. 1.
Glenroy Foley, Mexico No. 1.
Gordon C. Williams, Mexico No. 1.
Howard Key, Mexico No. 2.
Stanley Perham, West Paris, Life and Star Scout.

Fifteen of the above scouts won a total of sixty-seven merit badges during the year to December 31, 1922. Stanley Perham of Troop No. 1, West Paris was the only scout to win the Life and Star scout rank.

West Paris
A dozen shovels and a heavy dozen scouts can certainly make the snow fly when the spirit starts. Also there is no better place to use them than in shoveling out fire hydrants and the road to the fire house. At the scout meeting Saturday night, it was unanimously voted that everyone turn to, get shovels, and do a Troop Good Turn by the above method. The Chamber of Commerce has made it possible for the troop of scouts under the leadership of Reynold Chase, to have the use of the Fire Hall for scout meetings in consideration that the scouts keep the doors well shoveled. The main road leading to the Fire Hall has been heavily drifted and has not been "broken out" this winter. Troop No. 1 decided that the only real way to do the job was to clean up the whole job 100%—fire hydrants, hodd, doors and all. The did so.

Buckfield
The following letter has been received for Scoutmaster Fuller of Troop No. 1, Buckfield: "Dear Mr. Perham: There was a regular meeting of the Buckfield troop last Friday evening. Eleven members were present. Scoutcraft instruction and practice was given in knot-tying and signalling. The latter part of the evening was spent at a church social. Nearly all present watched the partial eclipse of the moon. I have obtained a large piece of beaverboard to be used in the scout room as a Scoutcraft Recorder. Very truly yours, C. S. Fuller, S. M."

Worth Mentioning
The following Oxford County Scouts have "stepped up a notch" in official capacity in their different troops. The rank of Senior Patrol Leader and Assistant Scoutmaster is a much coveted position by scouts who have come up through the ranks.

Irvin Mason, Asst. S. M., Locke's Mills.
Harry Packard, Sr. P. L., Locke's Mills.
Lawrence Jordan, Asst. S. M., Bryant's Pond.
Stanley Perham, Sr. P. L., West Paris.
Lester Cushman, Asst. S. M., South Paris.
Houghton Kimball, Sr. P. L., Norway.
Arthur Hutchinson, A. S. M., Buckfield.

Two or three other scouts in Oxford County are very close to the mark, but not officially announced as yet. A Senior Patrol Leader must be a first class scout.

Oxford Scouts "on the jump"
Troop No. 1, Oxford, has gained four new members and is working well under the leadership of Scoutmaster Charles Hamlen. Twelve scouts out of a possible fifteen have been on deck for the last three meetings. The following scouts received degree badges: Roscoe Staples, 2nd class, Arthur Bonney and Gordon Hayes, tenderfoot. Various tests in first aid and signalling were passed by Morton Edgeley, Horace Bryant, Hollis Dunn, Roscoe Staples and George Patterson. Executive Perham awarded the badges. The troop organization is as follows:

Troop Organization:
Scribe—Horace Bryant.
Treas.—Morton Edgeley.
The leaders of the Fox Patrol are Roscoe Staples and Emile Barrett. The leaders of the Flying Eagle Patrol are Hollis Dunn and Horace Bryant. The following eight scouts hold second class rank: Hollis Dunn, Morton Edgeley, George Fletcher, Emile G. Barrett, Geo. Patterson, Sylvester Pratt, Horace Bryant, Roscoe Staples. Roy Buker, Bates athlete, and champion two-miler was the scoutmaster in charge of Troop No. 1 last summer.

SNOW
A certain poet, years ago,
Told us verse about lines below:
"Oh! the snow, the snow, the beautiful snow,
Goes, like the sunshine, that sparkle and glow,
And to-day, as I sit by my window, I
Watch the wind play with the snow
I wish that poet of long ago
Was chucked head first in his blamed old snow."
As I watch from my seat the snow pile high,
My mind returns to the years gone by,
When we awoke from our sleep,
And found the snow drifts ten feet deep.
Then into our clothes we would quickly crawl,
For we saw the "handwriting on the wall,"
And all day long, from morn till night,
The beautiful snow we had to fight.
There was Turk and Golden, Bright and Broad
Just out of the shop and sharply shod,
Also Star, and Line, Buck and Swan,
And a dozen others, to be hitched on.
Thus it continued from fall till spring
Day after day it was the same old thing.
We would dig and shovel till we all got sour,
For all the town paid us was twelve cents an hour.
Now, my kind friends, if I knew without doubt
That fellow was in a drift and couldn't get out,
I'd clasp my hands and raise a loud shout,
A warning to others, they had better look out.
Some may think it all very nice,
To sit by the fire and give others advice,
To write of the snow in their library warm,
While others are out fighting the storm.
Sometimes think, as I sit in deep thought
That the deeds of some men are, nothing but rot,
And what the world lacks, in all time hence,
Is a plenty of good old-fashioned horse sense.
J. W. WARREN, Amesbury, Mass.

RUMFORD POINT
H. G. Elliott has finished his job at East Rumford and moved back home.
H. E. Hutchins and wife are a little better at this writing.
E. A. Merrill is working for the Light Co. at Norway.
A. J. Marble sold a cow to E. C. Billings of Bethel Saturday.
Albert Dumeau is sawing birch for George Elliott.
Chester Ladd is getting ready to tap trees.
A. O. White has bought the ferry here.

What one Subscriber said: "I am enclosing one dollar ($1.00) for renewal of the Advertiser for 8 months and at the end of that time I shall renew again. I am lost without that paper each week. It is better than a letter for I hear what is going on around the towns where I have lived. Long live the Advertiser."

Stearns-Chandler
Frank Fox Stearns and Doris Chandler were united in marriage in Fryeburg Wednesday, March 14. Mr. Stearns is a Lovell boy and for a number of years has been on the mail route between Lovell and Fryeburg and is the son of A. A. and Avis Stearns.
Miss Chandler is the daughter of Chas. and Emma Chandler of Fryeburg and is a graduate of Fryeburg Academy. They will make their home in Lovell.

The Sunday school held a supper at Masonic dining hall, Saturday night. A good crowd was on hand for the very fine and tasty supper at 6 o'clock. After supper the tables were cleared away and games were played by the children.
The whist social at Masonic Hall, on Thursday evening, was largely attended by members of the two lodges and their families. The oldest man in town was there, Albion Heald, but if he is the oldest in number of years, he does not show it and is just as much interested in the affairs of the town, state and nation as ever. He is one of the oldest members of Delta Lodge F. and A. M. and is very much interested in the work of the order. Long may he live.

DUSTING VS. SPRAYING METHOD

I am informed that at the Auburn meeting of the Dept. of Agriculture held recently one Mr. Frost claimed that the use of dust had been a failure in Maine and that its largest users would undoubtedly give up its use entirely.

As Mr. Frost is a commercial seller of liquid spray he may be pardoned for not knowing where the dusted orchards of Maine are located at any rate this gentleman's statements have no foundation in fact, and are altogether incorrect. He mentions the years of 1921 and 1922 as the first and second years of dusting in Maine where as the facts are, that the dusting method for the control of orchard pests and diseases has been in use in this state for at least six years.

Wilson H. Conant of Buckfield, Pres. of the Oxford Bears Fruit Growers' Association, Pres., also of Maine Fruit Growers' Exchange and one of the most successful orchardists in the state has used dust extensively for this number of years and in a recent letter says, "there will be more dust used in Maine during 1923 than ever before."

Mr. Frost's Maine was hit rather harder than the rest of New England, because of becoming over enthusiastic the previous year on dusting. Possibly the gentleman is not informed concerning the conditions which prevailed in Maine the past year. The rainfall during the month of June was the heaviest since official records were kept thus causing apple scab to start and develop.

Thousands of bushels of apples were ruined by a terrific hail storm which swept over several Counties during the month of September. The third largest calamity which befall Maine orchard men last year was the freeze which came while a large amount of the choicest fruit was still on the trees and which took a big toll of what the June storms had left and the hail had spared.

Mr. Frost claimed that most of the growers who lost their crop last year did so by depending upon dust, the foregoing facts will give an idea of the true reason for the large amount of this loss.

It is claimed by many orchardists who have already bought their supplies for the year that more dust instead of less will be used in this state during 1923.

This gentleman also affirms that while traveling in Maine last summer he saw but two orchards which were anywhere near 100 per cent clean and both of these were sprayed orchards.

I would gladly have directed Mr. Frost to the orchard houses of some of the Conants of Oxford County, where the buyers who came to purchase stated that the fruit was of the finest quality that he had seen in the state. These brothers have demonstrated beyond a doubt that the use of dust is more satisfactory to them than liquid.

In all probability this gentleman did not visit the orchards of H. W. Wentworth of Skowhegan, a firm believer in dust, which he has used for the past three years and which he says in a recent letter to me he shall continue to use. Mr. Wentworth also mentions the high grade of fruit which he raised and the very satisfactory price which he received for it.

I am in receipt of a letter from a Cumberland County orchardist of note, a grower of very fine fruit, who says that the weather conditions last year were very bad for fruit, and that he noticed some infection of apple scab before he began to dust, but that he had learned upon inquiry that the users of liquid spray had suffered full more severely than had he.

A prominent Oxford County orchardist whose fruit is always in demand wrote me recently, "the man who uses dust is the man who gets the big price for his fruit."

I could continue to quote from successful orchardists in many sections of the state who have used dust for three to six years who emphatically contend that their fruit is much nearer the hundred per cent mark than the gentleman from Mass., seems willing to acknowledge.

It is a fact that the quality of Maine fruit has been raised materially during the past five years by the use of dust. This is proven by the statements of the orchardists themselves, by the high quality of the fruit exhibited and the large number of prizes won at state and New England exhibits, composed largely and sometimes entirely of fruit from dusted orchards.—Frank H. Dudley.

Fryeburg Academy
Thursday evening of last week "His Uncle's Niece" was successfully given by the Senior Class. Approximately $140 was realized from the drama and dance.

The money which is not used to meet expenses of graduation will be added to the gymnasium fund. Music for both drama and dance was furnished by the Academy orchestra.

Friday forenoon a debate was held in the Freshman English class and in the afternoon a public debate was held in Assembly Hall. The speakers were Robert Eastman, Floyd Warren, Edwin Alarid, Marguerite Marston, Doris Tremblay and Vashli Clement. At the debate Headmaster LeCasse awarded letters to basket ball and football men.

Thursday afternoon the school was fortunate in having as a speaker Mr. Babb of the Colt Lyceum Bureau.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Long Ago Promise Kept

Rockwood, Me., March 12, 1923.

Dear Brother Sanborn:
About two years ago, I promised to send you some "Whittling Timber", if I could find any. Did not seem to locate any that appeared promising, till about a week ago I interviewed an old woodsman friend who is getting out railroad ties for Byron Boyd, up in that Cedar Swamp back of Cowan's Cove—you know the place, right by Wesson's Island.

This man's name is Mayhew Tipper. He might not answer if you called him that, because everybody calls him "Mate" and that's all, but he is the best fellow in the world (or near it) and after I had explained to him just what I was looking for, he says: "Got just what you want, split slicker'n a weasel. Fetch her to you next time I come." And he did. Five miles on snowshoes, snow blowing as it sometimes does on Moosehead Lake, and the trail not to be seen most of the way, dragging the "whittlings" on a hand sled. That's Mate. Do anything to accommodate his friends.

My part is easy. I am forwarding it to you and the rest of my friends of the justly celebrated "Weary Club." Here's luck to you! May your knives never get dull. By the way, who yields the really best knife in the bunch? When I last visited with you, John, Woodman claimed the honor. (Vigorously disputed.) Napoleon Champagne says he doesn't know anything about Woodman's knives, but he is one good sport to go fishing with. He also remembers that he trimmed you for the supper, in some sort of a bait casting tournament, or bass fishing scrap, out at some little pond west of Fennesseewassee. "Nap" conducts and owns a place here, sort of hotel, restaurant, pool room and grocery and provisions. Seems to be prosperous.

I hope this old Cedar proves to be as good as we think it, for your purposes. I had in mind to send you some nice old dry pine, but presume that you may have enough of that on hand.

Read about your town meeting with great interest. Hope you don't make the mistake of putting an addition to your present High School building. Build a new one. Taxes high. Of course, they never will be low again. Getting things, ain't you? Sure. Shell out. Up here where we pay no taxes (except our income tax, State tax, County tax, school tax, etc.), why things look pretty rosy. You know we are not bothered with lawyers, doctors, ministers, or tax collectors, just game wardens, and we like most of those. The poachers got two of our best. Poor Dave Brown, you knew Dave, didn't you? Well, he was one good fellow as was Johnson, too. We all believe that the bodies will be recovered soon now, that the man who shot them is well known. Whether he will get his just desserts is another question.

If there is a town report laying around that is not working, send it up to me. I like to read them. I thank you.

Yours very truly,
Lew Weston.

The timber has arrived. One log was 18 inches in diameter and the other 14 and weighed 132 pounds and the postage was $1.36. It is straight grained and free of knots and the best of whittling timber.—Editor.

Memories of Long Ago

New York, March 12, 1923.

To the Advertiser:
I was much interested in Judge Whitman's article in the Advertiser concerning Norway and Port McClary.

By odd coincidence a few days ago it became my duty, as President of the Authors' Club, to examine a store of letters left that organization by the late Richard Henry Stoddard. Among them I found this unique note in the handwriting of Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., addressed to John A. Dix, his commanding officer: "Port McClary, Kittery Point, Me. June 19th, 1864.

My dear General:
I am here asking to do my duty as a Capt. There is only one thing that troubles me, and that is those d-d (excuse the profanity, I learned it in the service) reports. Will you, just to please me, instruct your A. A. G. to help me in this matter. I have been lissed in the Bleeker building while stumping for Fremont. You were on the wrong side of the house then; but all right now.

God bless you,
S. Cobb, Jr., Capt. Comd'g.

"To Maj. Gen. Dix, New York City."
P. S. My guns are all shotted. My men have cartage in their boxes and so far as I can do it I will. Send old Jeff Davis to me. I have a sweet little dungeon to put him in. S. C. Jr."

The late Henry Tucker used to tell me many amusing stories about Port McClary. Sometime I hope to write them out.

Don C. Seitz.
We certainly wish you would do so. Send them in.—Editor.

Twenty-Six Years Ago

Wheels have been in use about the village and robins appeared in considerable numbers until a foot of snow fell bringing back winter conditions.

G. A. Richardson brought twelve gallons maple syrup into the village Tuesday, being the first to appear with the article this year.

South Paris Heat and Power Co. recently organized has the refusal of the Jackson water power. They intend to establish an electric plant there and transmit current to South Paris village. The officers are: President, N. Dayton Bolster; Clerk and Treasurer, George M. Atwood; Directors, L. S. Billings, J. A. Lamb, J. Hastings Bean.

A large white star flashing with sudden brilliancy and dying out, only to flash again caused observers at Kesar Falls great uneasiness until it was learned a powerful electric search light on Mt. Washington for experimental purposes was causing the display.

Business is rushing in the wooden bicycle rim factory in West Paris. Some forty men are employed. The plant was the Kimball chair factory once the largest concern of its kind in New England.

Dr. Harry R. Farris

Dr. Harry R. Farris of this town died at his home on High street, Friday morning, March 23, after an illness of seven weeks.

He was born in Oxford, June 25, 1875, the son of William R. and Henrietta McAllister Farris. His early life was spent here and he was a member of the first class (1894) to be graduated from Oxford High School. Graduating from Hebron Academy in 1896, he entered the University of Vermont. Receiving his medical diploma in 1899, Dr. Farris settled in Oxford and soon established a practice over a wide territory where he became known as one of the most successful doctors in Oxford County.

Dr. Farris had a long military career dating from his enlistment at Norway in 1900 as private in Co. D First Infantry National Guard of Maine. He was appointed first class sergeant of the hospital corps, July 17, 1906; first Lieutenant in the medical department, July 16, 1910.

When the Maine Coast Artillery Corps, National Guard of Maine was created, Lieut. Farris was made a surgeon of the corps and commissioned a captain, July 14, 1913. In 1913, Capt. Farris was in charge of the medical unit that accompanied the veterans of the Civil War to Gettysburg.

When the U. S. entered the World War, Capt. Farris was ordered to Augusta, where he was commissioned major of the second Maine Infantry. On April 18, 1917, he began examining and recruiting for the second Maine Infantry at Augusta. He went with the regiment to Westfield, Mass., where he stayed six weeks for field instruction in the 103d Infantry. He sailed to Europe with that detachment in September, 1917, arriving in France, he was transferred to the 101st Field Hospital and established and equipped the hospital for occupation. At Autun in July, 1918, he was sent to Malabry, near Paris, as commanding officer of the Red Cross Hospital and remained there until the hospital was closed and he went to the Paris office of the A. E. F. where all A. E. F. men had to report for treatment. He was made Lieutenant Colonel in the Medical Corps, May 7, 1919 and immediately afterwards sailed for the United States, arriving home May 29th.

Dr. Farris was a member of the Oxford County Medical, State Medical and the American Medical Association, also of Craigie Lodge, K. of P. of this town; and the Oxford Grange. He was a member of the Norway lodge, council and chapter of Masons, and Kora Temple, Lewiston. He was the first commander of the Elmer D. Anderson Post, American Legion of Oxford and a member of the Congregational Church.

On June 1, 1920, Dr. Farris in company with Dr. William Haskell of Lewiston, and Dr. Ralph Goodwin of Auburn, purchased the Oxford Spring Hotel and equipped a government hospital for tubercular ex-service men. The institution is doing fine work and considered one of the best.

He leaves besides his wife, who before their marriage was Mamie Blake of Oxford, two daughters, Inez and Maystelle; a brother, John Farris of Everett, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Inez Eaton and Mrs. Harriet Andrews of Hartford, Conn.

The funeral was held at the Congregational Church, Sunday afternoon, with the Masonic bodies of Norway in charge. Rev. Frederick Newport conducted the service. The auditorium was crowded with relatives and friends, civic and military delegations, Knights of Pythias and the ex-service boys at the Oxford sanatorium. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers. Burial was at Riverside Cemetery.

Fore Street

Mrs. Ai Twitchell was in Lewiston Friday to visit her mother, Mrs. James Dumbur of Oxford, who was in the St. Marie Hospital. Mrs. Dumbur, who has long been ill, was growing weaker and died that night.

Arthur Merrill is surveying a road to his contemplated home on Ai Twitchell's interval.

Mrs. E. E. Twitchell passed her natal day, March 21, quietly at home, receiving gifts and many letters and cards from friends. Mrs. Wellington Twitchell and Mrs. Ai Twitchell calling a few minutes in the afternoon to extend their greetings.

Mrs. Twitchell and her sister, Flora Cummings, are slowly recovering from their severe attack of flu.

Iva Allen has so far recovered as to be out calling on neighbors and friends again. Leon Twitchell and wife also are out and at work, while some of John Grover's family are still "under the weather."

Our new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Keller, who lately bought and moved into the so called, commissary house, are reported as busy raising chickens and doing extensive repairing on the buildings.

Teaming is still active on Oxford Fore street. Four two horse teams yarding four foot cleft wood in Smith's pasture, corner of Oxford Fore street and the back road. The wood belongs to the Bescoe Staples.

The pines between the red house and Dwinall's also are being cut and yarded. Their grateful shade to the travelers going this way will be greatly missed as well as hurting the looks of the place along the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lovejoy spent a day last week at John Lamb's, Mrs. Heist of Pigeon Hill, daughter of Mrs. Lamb and granddaughter of Mrs. Lovejoy being there with her young daughter made a meeting of four generations of daughters.

Mrs. Rose Cobb of Oxford is at Alvin Lovejoy's at this writing, assisting Mrs. Lovejoy, she being sick.

Guy Cotton of Norway has finished work for John Grover and John Ray of Waterford is now teaming the white horses for John.

Arline Grover spent part of her school vacation visiting friends and relatives in South Paris.

Mrs. Eugene Keller spent the week end in Lewiston. Although Oxford Fore Street all along its way is navigable, the U. S. Mail misses a trip now and then; the roads over the hills are bad.

Melissa Twitchell who teaches at Skowhegan, came home Monday night for a few weeks' vacation.

Miss Retha Glover, pastor of the Adventist Church at Oxford, has been spending a few days here with friends.

Protecting Shade Trees

According to a vote of the Norway Board of Trade, revised statutes and private laws relative to planting and protecting shade trees have been studied. An article in the Corporation warrant bears directly on the findings. Wilfred G. Conary, attorney, has submitted the results of his research:

R. S. 1916, Chap. 4, sec. 98. "Towns, cities and village corporations may make by-laws or ordinances, not inconsistent with law, and enforce them by suitable penalties."

Paragraph VI, of said section reads as follows: "For setting off portions of their roads and streets for sidewalks, keeping them clear of snow and other obstructions, regulating the use thereof, and for planting and preserving trees by the side thereof, and for the proper protection and care of public parks and squares within the same, and all monuments, statues and erections therein."

Private Laws, 1875, Chap. 185, amending Norway Village corporation charter, reads in part as follows: "Said corporation is hereby invested with power, at any legal meeting called for the purpose, to raise such sums of money as may be sufficient for lighting their streets, in any manner they may choose, for planting and protecting shade trees, etc."

The above law was amended in 1901, Chap. 309, "..... to raise more sufficient for the planting and care of shade trees within the street limits and public parks of said corporation."

Under Article 8, Norway Village corporation By-laws is the following provision: "no person shall wantonly or maliciously injure, mar or destroy shade trees or ornamental shrubbery, either upon private or public grounds within the limits of the Village Corporation...."

Article 9, of said by-laws provide that for a violation of any by-law, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $5.00.

In consideration of the above it would seem that Norway Village Corporation is within its legal rights to grant and raise money for the care, protection, etc. of shade or ornamental trees or shrubbery.

Chapter 60, Section 15, reads in part, "Every such corporation (meaning, gas, light, telephone, etc.) shall so construct its poles, lines, etc., as not to inconvenience the use of such roads, and that no such corporation shall injure, cut down or destroy any fruit trees, or any tree or shrub standing and growing for the purpose of shade or ornament...."

Under the provisions of the foregoing sections it appears that no gas, light or telephone company may remove, cut or mutilate any trees or branches thereof, that is not necessary to insure a proper opening for their lines; and any debris removed from any such growth shall be removed and taken care of by such company; any violation thereof is subject of penalty under the Laws of Maine as well as subject to penalties provided for by the by-laws of Norway Village Corporation.

The Barton Reading Club met with Mrs. Georgie Tucker on March 23. This being "Open Date," Edgar A. Guest had been chosen as the author for the day. Quotations in answer to roll call were from Hawthorne.

A birthday greeting in verse, was read by each one present to which Mrs. Sanborn responded pleasantly. Mrs. E. N. A New Radio Achievement

Since the beginning of general radio broadcasting, engineers have striven to simplify designs and to rectify operation, so that a receiving set would be made which the average man, woman or child could "tune in" with, and get the most pleasing and uninterrupted results.

Out of this research, the engineers of the Air-way Corporation have developed the ideal set.

The Air-way Radio Frequency Set.

VERDICT FOR LOU M. DAUGHRATY SUSTAINED

The law court in final decree on March 23, sustained the $5,000.00 verdict to Mrs. Lou M. Daughraty of South Paris, given by a jury at Rumford, Isaac Fox of Oxford, foreman. The case was tried at the May term in Rumford, it being an action brought by Mrs. Daughraty, administratrix, to recover damages from Miss Lettie Abbott of Auburn in the sum of $10,000. The plaintiff alleged negligence in operating an automobile on the cement highway between Oxford and Norway on October 29, 1921, causing injuries to her husband, L. Howard Daughraty, from which he died on Nov. 4 following. Attorneys for the plaintiff, Alton L. Wheeler and Frederick L. Dyer; for the defendant, Frank A. Morey and Walter L. Gray.

The defendant appealed and pleadings were before the law court on Dec. 22 by Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Morey.

The following is the rescript: "This case comes up on a general motion and a special motion based upon the alleged interference with the jury by a court officer. The case involves an automobile action in which the plaintiff's intestate, who will hereafter be called the plaintiff, received injuries on October 29, 1921, from which he died on November 4 following. A verdict was found in favor of the plaintiff, and the general motion is to set aside that verdict. No exceptions were taken and the charge to the jury must be regarded as the proper and adequate statement of the law. The burden which the proponent of a motion to overturn a verdict assumes has been too long and too often declared to require citation. There is very little controversy in the present testimony. However, wherever a controversy did arise, in determining the issue the law court must proceed upon the theory that the jury had a right to accept all the testimony of the plaintiff's side as true, and to reject all the testimony of the defendant's side as untrue, mistaken or unsatisfactory, unless the testimony, including the circumstances and probabilities, reveals a situation that proves the testimony on the plaintiff's side to be inherently wrong. Upon the practically undisputed facts two questions arise: First, was the defendant negligent? Second, if so, was the plaintiff guilty of contributory negligence?

There was sufficient evidence to warrant the affirmative finding of the jury upon the first question. It cannot be declared as a matter of law that there was no substantial evidence upon which the jury was authorized to find the exercise of reasonable care on the part of the plaintiff. The general motion should be overruled. The special motion for setting aside the verdict is merely stated, but not discussed in the defendant's brief. We think he discovered that it was without merit. The special motion should also be overruled. The mandate, therefore, must be, both motions overruled.
